

High School Pilot Program Guidelines & Registration

The High School Pilot Program enables high school juniors & seniors of outstanding ability to earn credit in regularly scheduled University of Montana courses each semester.*

Eligibility: (1) High school juniors and seniors maintaining a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 (B) or higher and with approval from their high school counselors/principal and parent/guardian (under age 18) or (2) home schooled students (who are at least 16) with an ACT composite score of 22 or an SAT combined score of 1540 are eligible to participate. Counselors should contact Enrollment Services-Admissions at 243-6266 regarding students who do not meet these criteria. High school graduates are not eligible.

Course Selection: Courses selected should supplement or expand those available at the student's high school. Recreational activity courses are excluded from the Pilot program. Students can access the class schedule online at <http://cyberbear.umt.edu>. Students may register for a maximum of six credits per term.

Application/Registration* Process for first term:

- Step 1: Get materials & forms. Pick up application materials from your high school counselor or view and print the forms online at admissions.umt.edu/hspilot.html.
View the course catalog online at www.umt.edu/catalog/.
- Step 2: Meet with high school counselor. High school counselors serve as academic advisors to select eligible students and validate class choices. We suggest that the counselor, student and parent work together to complete the application and approval form. High School Pilot participants do not have to pay the $30 application fee. The completed application is sent to: High School Pilot Program, Enrollment Services-Admissions, Lommasson Center 101, The University of Montana, Missoula, MT 59812 prior to the beginning of the semester. Pre-registration Immunization Records (required) should be mailed to: Curry Health Center, The University of Montana, Missoula, MT 59812. Students cannot register for classes until the Curry Health Center has received the required form.
- Step 3: Register for your class(es). High School Pilot students register using the Cyberbear online registration system. Instructions are also available on Cyberbear. If you are registering during the pre-registration time, you will follow the timeline assigned to freshmen. Note that your PIN number is your birthday (mm/dd/yy) until you change it (recommended). If a desired class is full, we recommend that you attend the first day of class with an override slip which is available at the Griz Central Registration Counter in the Lommasson Center. Ask the instructor to sign you into the course.
- Step 4: Pay for your classes. Follow the instructions on Cyberbear for fee payment. You will need to meet certain payment deadlines depending on when you register. All students must pay fees with an e-check or credit card on Cyberbear or in person at Griz Central in the Lommasson Center.

Subsequent Registration: Registration for future semesters follows the same procedures except the application and Medical History record are not required. A new signed approval form is needed each semester.

* If the course selection is offered through the College of Technology or Continuing Education and Summer Programs, please contact those offices for registration information.
